Product Description

Big Green Egg XL Nest Handler

The Big Green Egg XL Nest Handler is a powder-coated steel accessory that secures the XL EGG to its Nest and provides an ergonomic handle system for rolling the combined assembly safely on its casters. The Handler wraps around the EGG band and connects to the Nest frame, holding the EGG in the Nest during repositioning so that it cannot shift or tip out as the casters roll the assembly across a patio or deck surface. It is designed and manufactured in the USA exclusively for Big Green Egg and is recommended for all XL Nest installations where the EGG will be repositioned regularly.

Why the XL Nest Handler Matters

The XL Big Green Egg weighs 219 pounds. Moving it on the two-caster Nest without a Handler means the EGG can potentially shift in the Nest opening when the assembly is tilted forward onto the casters, creating a stability and safety concern. The Nest Handler addresses this by mechanically securing the EGG to the Nest during movement. With the Handler in place, the EGG and Nest move as a single unified assembly rather than two separate components that share contact only through the EGG's weight. This makes the XL EGG repositioning operation significantly more controlled and safer, particularly when navigating around obstacles or across uneven deck boards.

Powder-Coated Steel Construction

The XL Nest Handler is made from durable powder-coated steel that matches the finish of the XL EGG Nest. The powder-coat finish provides outdoor corrosion resistance and a consistent visual appearance when installed on the Nest. The steel gauge and weld quality are appropriate for the dynamic forces encountered when rolling the 219-pound XL EGG assembly on casters, including lateral forces from changing direction and longitudinal forces from starting and stopping the rolling motion.

Installation on the XL Nest

The XL Nest Handler installs on the XL EGG Nest by connecting at the frame rail positions that Big Green Egg designed for Handler attachment. Installation requires no tools and can be completed quickly. Once installed, the Handler remains on the Nest and can be left in place during cooking sessions, where it also serves as a visual indicator of the EGG's secure positioning in the Nest.

A Dedicated Handling Solution for the XL EGG

The XL Nest Handler addresses a practical challenge with large kamado grills: how do you safely reposition a heavy ceramic grill without the right equipment? The XL Nest Handler provides the answer by integrating handles directly into a nest-style support frame, giving two people a proper grip and a controlled way to carry or reposition the XL EGG as needed. This eliminates the improvised solutions, such as gripping the ceramic body directly or using straps, that can lead to drops, damage, or injury.

Stability During Cooking

Beyond portability, the XL Nest Handler serves as the primary support base for the XL EGG during each cook. Its welded construction provides a rigid, stable platform that keeps the EGG at the correct height and prevents any movement or rocking during the session. This stability matters when you are managing airflow through the lower vent, adding fuel mid-cook, or making adjustments at the EGG at temperature.

Designed Specifically for the XL EGG

The XL Nest Handler is dimensioned and load-rated specifically for the XL Big Green Egg, ensuring a proper, secure fit for the ceramic body. Using a support system designed for your specific EGG size protects the ceramic from stress concentrations that can result from ill-fitting stands, and gives you confidence that the EGG is properly supported through every cook. When paired with optional casters, the XL Nest Handler also provides the rolling mobility to position the EGG wherever you need it on your patio or deck.
